IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Henry Van Dyke, 70 years old today is a man of letters and a dergyman of eminence in the Prestyterian church who served for several years as United States minister to the Netherlands. Of Dutch ancestry, it was deemed especially fitting that he should go to The Hague; and it was his intention while there to pursue stadies in connection with Dutch history and literature which he had long wished to make. With the opening of the European war his official duties were greatly and the handled the difficult stration creditably. Dr. Van Dyke is an assumption of Pripoeton university and of the Princeton Theological seminary. He has been moderator of the highest pudicial and legislative assembly of his church. He is a member of the American Academy of Aris and Letters, election to the same having been based on his courty as a research and the handled the difficult strategy of the volstead act.

Senator Reed of Missouri, an avowed opponent of prohibition, was elected, and legislative assembly of his church. He is a member of the American Academy of Aris and Letters, election to the same having been based on his courty as an essayist as a poet, and as a critic of literature.
